User Guide for Finder V1.0.9

1.1 Product Introduction

Developed by New Rock Technologies, Inc., Finder is a Windows-based software for obtaining the IP address of New Rock Audio & Video device in a LAN environment.

Finder is a green software and it can be used without installation. The user can enter the official website of the New Rock Technologies, Inc., that is: http://en.newrocktech.com/show/594.html,then click Product>App & Software>Finder to download this software.

1.2 Guidelines

Step 1 Double click Finder v1.0.9.exe to run it after decompression.

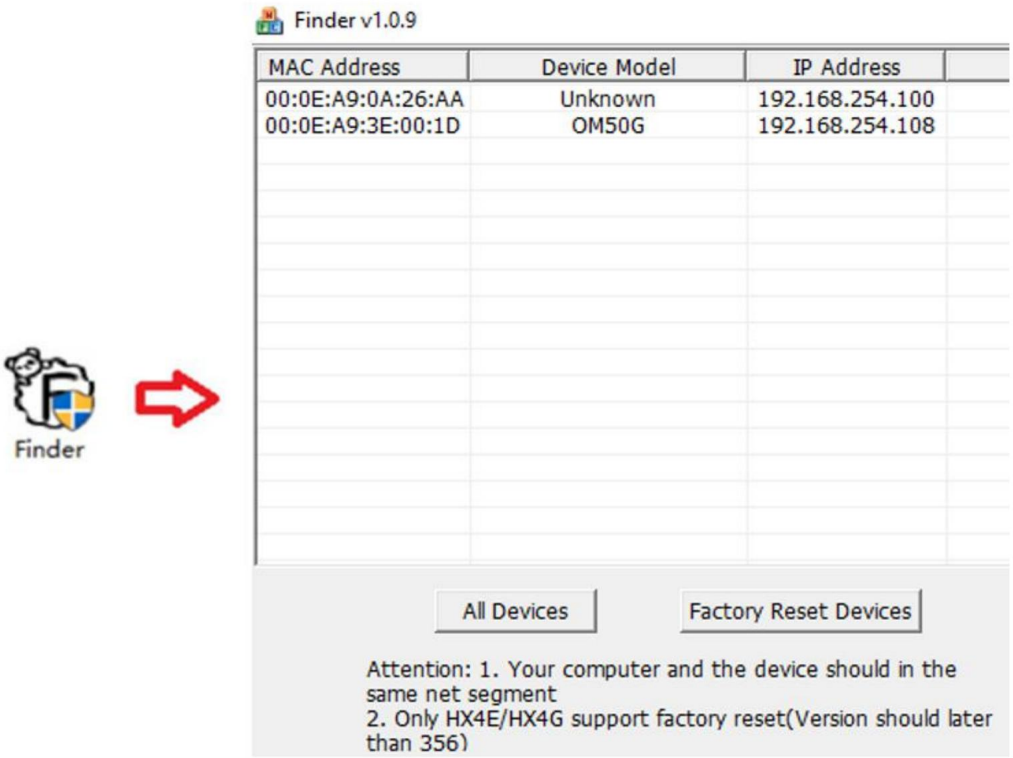
Note: If a popped-up message prompts, you shall install WinPcap on your computer and finish the installation according to the notice.

Step 2 Click Refresh， Finder will display the MAC address,the type of the device and the IP address after few seconds.

Figure 1-1 Interface of Finder



Note: Make sure your PC and the target device are in the same net segment. If it fails to find the IP of the target device, you should connect your PC with the target device directly.